

Contents of Volume 89

Articles

- Abraham, W., Null subjects in the history of German: From IP to CP 117
- Falk, C., Non-referential subjects and agreement in the history of Swedish 143
- Hulk, A. and A. van Kemenade, Introduction to Special Issue on Null subjects in diachrony 109
- Hulk, A. and A. van Kemenade, Subjects, nominative case, agreement and functional heads 181
- Kemenade, A. van, see A. Hulk 181
- Kemenade, A. van, see A. Hulk 109
- Korrel, L., The use of the present perfect in English and in Dutch: A look behind the scenes 1
- Rivero, M.L., Long Head Movement vs. V2, and null subjects in Old Romance 217
- Sandler, W., Sign language and modularity 315
- Sigurðsson, H.Á., Argument-drop in Old Icelandic 247
- Vance, B., Verb-first declaratives introduced by et and the position of pro in Old and Middle French 281
- Werth, P., Accommodation and the myth of presupposition: The view from discourse 39

Reviews

- Cable, T., The English alliterative tradition (C.B. McCully) 353
- Fleischman, S. and L.R. Waugh (eds.), Discourse pragmatics and the verb: Evidence from Romance (L. King) 103
- Hall, C.J., Morphology and mind: A unified approach to explanation in linguistics (N. Fabb) 105

König, E., The meaning of focus particles: A comparative perspective (A. Foolen)	97
Waugh, L.R., see S. Fleischman	103

